

THE GAZETTE.

FOUR GREAT REFORMS.
Postmaster General Wadsworth says he wishes his administration of the post-office department to be distinguished by at least four radical reforms, or improvements—first, the establishment of postal telegraphy; second, the divorce of lotteries from the mail; third, postal savings banks; and fourth, penny postage. If Mr. Wadsworth shall succeed in inaugurating these reforms he will do the country a great service, and will win greater honors than were ever before won by a postmaster general.

For years the Gazette has been advocating the establishment of postal telegraphy. The country needs that kind of a service. All the great countries of Europe have such a service. If it is good for Europe why is it not good for the United States? When Hon. O. C. Wadsworth was in congress he made an effort to secure the people postal telegraph. The friends of the system and the officers of the Western Union had a bitter fight. The Western Union won, and in all the contests since that time for such a system of telegraph, the company, by its millions of capital and well organized opposition to all schemes which shall interfere with its monopoly, has kept on the winning side. Congress always takes off its hat and bows its best bow to magistrates of the Western Union when they appear in Washington as a lobby against cheap telegraph for the people.

The president of the telegraph company seems to have a majority of congressmen under his thumb. Their convictions and courage take to the woods every time President Green goes to Washington. Whether this will be the case this summer we may hope not, but the chances, no matter which party is in power, are always in favor of President Green.

Congress should do something to prevent the use of the mails by lottery companies. One of the ways in which to cripple the lottery scheme is to deprive the owners of the lottery of the facilities afforded by the postal service. Congress can have an opportunity to shake hands with itself for doing some royal good work if it shall throw all lottery matter out of the mails.

The system of postal savings banks is much needed in this country. They are very successful in England, France and Germany, and have never been tried in the United States. They have an influence over working people in the matter of saving their earnings that the ordinary savings bank does not. They receive smaller deposits, in a more convenient way, and afford a security which is as strong as the government itself. These considerations make the postal service banks very popular in other countries, and there seems to be no reason why they should not be established in this country.

BUTTERWORTH IS RIGHT.
Harper's Weekly, which contains all protective measures, praises Ben Butterworth for his splendid speech, against the McKinley bill, and then condemns his vote. It charges him with inconsistency in that he voted for a measure which he could not justify in his speech. Butterworth was right in his speech and right in his vote. He is a protectionist. He believes in fostering American industries. He is not an extremist, like McKinley, but one after the fashion of Garfield and Arthur. He thought the McKinley bill was key too high. He showed that it did not serve all interests. He did not want to give one branch of industry more protection than another. In short he does not want to foster monopolies. This is why he spoke for the farmers, for the mechanic, for every body interested in a fair tariff and wise legislation.

There was a good deal of sharp work shown in the passage of the McKinley bill. The spurs were worn by McKinley, and he drove the bill through with the experience and skill of a brilliant leader. Mr. Butterworth did not rebel against the methods employed in driving the bill through the house, although he spoke against them. He clearly saw one thing, that a tariff could not be framed which would satisfy all interests, and while there were some good features in the McKinley bill there were some which needed condemnation. It was the bad things he opposed, but to secure the good he was forced to vote for the bad. As between two evils he chooses the lesser. Mr. Curtis thinks this is bad morals, but it is nevertheless good politics. Mr. Curtis had done hundreds of times since 1884 the very thing he condemns in Mr. Butterworth—he has chosen what in his opinion, was the lesser evil of two.

Some time ago the Gazette printed an editorial on "the spirit of women in hours of severe trials," which showed that, as a rule, women endure misfortune better than men. You can crush temporarily, the proud spirit of a woman, but it will rise again, and the one which was the greater loser in a domestic or a financial calamity, will prove the heroine in the end. Many men who get crushed by misfortune, start to drinking, go mad and make fools of themselves, while the women who are the greater sufferers, start a new life penitents, and a man of wide experience and large observation makes this statement: "An observation brings me to the conclusion that women who are thrown upon their own exertions manage better than men and will save a little out of a small income where a man would give up, take to drink or commit suicide. A man thinks it beneath his manhood to make a less deposit than $5. A poor woman with two or three children to support will wash, iron, cook, and nurse, take in from $6 to $10 a week for the same support her little household, buy her children an occasional toy or a little candy, keep her house looking tidy, herself presentable, pay her rent, and make a deposit here weekly of from 50 cents up to $1. We have several such depositors in this bank. I never see one of those pale-faced, tired-out looking women at the window that I do not feel like going out and saying something to encourage her."

It won't surprise anybody to hear that the charges against Pension Commissioner Baum were started by one of those pension sharks which infest Washington. He had some grudge against General Baum and manufactured the scandal to satisfy his malignant nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland have gone to their summer home at Buzzard's Bay. They have taken a cottage near that of Mr. Gilder, the editor of the Century, and Mr. Cleveland expects to spend the summer in seeking rest. Mr. Cleveland's law business seems to belong to mythological tribe. Since March '89 his chief business has been to seek rest and write campaign letters.

PERU'S POVERTY.
Imports and Exports Have Fallen Off Greatly and Business Is Paralyzed.
New York, June 10.—A special correspondent at Callao writes: "The exports from Callao to the United States have fallen off greatly since the war with Chili. The list which the vice-consul has procured from the custom house gives an aggregate of $89,942.50 for 1889. The principal entries are gold bars and coin, silver bars and coin, cocaine, cocoa leaves, and goat skins. Guano and nitrates are sent from other ports, but the aggregate valuation of the exports from Peru to the United States is less than it was before the war with Chili. The exports of guano, nitrate, sugar, wool, ore and cotton from the same ports to the kingdom have averaged less than $10,000,000 a year since the treaty of Ancup, whereas before they ran as high as $31,000,000, exclusive of guano and nitrate. The reports received from England have averaged $5,000,000 during the same period, whereas in 1877 the amount was nearly $20,000,000. These comparisons disclose the complete exhaustion of Peru. Not only American trade, but English trade as well has suffered from the paralysis of industrial energies produced by one of the most calamitous and unnecessary of South American wars."

UNCOLLECTED BOUNTIES.
Many Iowa Soldiers Entitled to Considerable Sums of Money.
MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, June 10.—No event of recent years has so stirred up this community as the discovery that the bounty due to the soldiers of the Board of Supervisors of this county to volunteers during the war of the rebellion remains, in most cases, unpaid. It seems that but few of the veterans were aware that the bounty was due to them, and the fact was discovered by the Board of Supervisors. More than 400 men enlisted from this county. Claims are already being made for back pay, and the unpaid compound interest, which will probably aggregate $100,000, if all the claims are presented. Prominent attorneys say the claims are undoubtedly valid, and the only question is whether interest can be collected.

RUN OVER BY A BAND WAGON.
Six Students of Oberlin College Seriously Injured.
OBERLIN, Ohio, June 10.—This morning six students of Oberlin college were assisting in drawing the Oberlin college base ball team out of the city in a parade held to the ground and before they were able to rise were run over by a band wagon containing about thirty-five people, which was following immediately after the carriage in which the ball players were riding. All of the boys were hurt, and three of them—B. A. Williams, John Ellis and O. J. Luthia—are so badly injured that it is feared they cannot survive.

BERRY MAY GET IT.
The Dark Horse to the Front as Carlisle's Probable Successor.
CARROLLTOWN, Ky., June 10.—Over 2,000 people are here to attend the convention to name Carlisle's successor in the lower House of Congress. So far it is Berry against the field, with the chances in favor of Berry.

DROWNED IN THE RIVER.
Four Children Victims of an Accident at Rapids City, Ill.
RAPIDS CITY, Ill., June 10.—Maggie Baker, aged ten, Lola, Alfred and Charlie, aged respectively nine, seven, and three years, were drowned at Rapids City yesterday. They were boating and the boat struck a snag, and the old water wheel belonging to a mill and capsized, the children being thrown into the water. The bodies of the two girls and Alfred have been recovered, that of Charlie has not.

DRAWING THE COLOR LINE.
White Railroad Men in Illinois Don't Like to Lodge With Negroes.
CARRO, Ill., June 10.—Trouble is anticipated by the Illinois Central management from the firemen and brakemen on the Centralia division because colored firemen from the Southern division are brought over the river to lodge with the whites at Mount Junction, the new terminus of the Southern division. The white men have held a meeting and resolved to ask the company to send the colored men to lodge elsewhere.

BALLOON IN MID-OCEAN.

A Monster Balloon Containing a Number of People Sighted in Mid-Ocean by a Sea Captain.

ENGLISHWOMEN CANNOT SERVE IN COUNTY COUNCILS.

So Says the House of Lords by a Vote of 119 to 45—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, June 10.—The House of Lords by a vote of 119 to 45 has rejected the bill to enable women to serve as members of county councils. While from known consensus of opinion among the Lords on this subject their action was not surprising, it was still thought that the presence of Miss Cobden and Miss Cons in the London county council by virtue of popular election, and the additional fact that no protest against the duties on either, in plate and other articles of British export, inquired concerning the bad effect which the approval of the Senate would have upon Sheffield, Belfast and other places in the British empire. He also asked if the government still maintained that the free import system of the United Kingdom precludes its instruction of Sir Julian Pauncefote, British minister at Washington, to represent to the American government the injury which the pending legislation would do to the industry of a friendly power, which last year gave a free market to $75,000,000 worth of competing American goods. Sir James Ferguson said the government had not received a copy of the bill, but had been informed that it contained no important alterations.

A BALLOON IN MID-OCEAN.
An Airship Containing Several People Sighted by a Sea Captain.
LONDON, June 10.—Capt. Ludh of the Swedish Bark Architect, just arrived from Fernandez, reports that on the mid-ocean the night of May 24, a large balloon with blue stripes and containing several people passed directly over his vessel. The crew failed to capture the airship, although the occupants hung out ropes and grappling irons. A strong southwest wind soon forced the involuntary navigators out of sight. The captain of the Architect is unable to give the slightest clue to their identity.

Will Prevent Ocean Racing.
LONDON, June 10.—The narrow escape of the City of Rome yesterday has aroused much indignation here against the practice of ocean racing by fast steamers, and it is stated the board of trade will take speedy and decisive action to suppress the practice by means of heavy penalties for infractions of the board's prohibitory measure.

Czechs to Honor the Martyr Huss.
LONDON, June 10.—All over Bohemia organizations are forming to do honor to the memory of John Huss, who was burned at the stake at Constance July 16, 1415, for heresy. It is the intention to make the demonstration the greatest gathering of Czechs ever assembled, and 700 Czechs will be chosen from all parts of Bohemia as delegates to go to Constance and perform a solemn religious duty before the statue of the martyr.

Asking Pardon for Editor Parke.
LONDON, June 10.—A petition signed by a large majority of the journalists of Great Britain has been presented to Home Secretary Matthews praying for the release of Mr. Parke, editor of the North London Free Press, who was sentenced on Jan. 16 to one year's imprisonment for libeling Lord Euston in saying that his lordship was one of the visitors to the notorious house of Hammond, in Cleveland street.

Outlets for British Capital.
LONDON, June 10.—A syndicate has been formed with $1,000,000 to purchase the breweries of Minneapolis and La Crosse. A trust with $1,000,000 capital has been organized to operate in Mexico and South America. The city of Montreal is offering in London an issue of 3 per cent bonds to the amount of $3,000,000.

She Left the Boys Far Behind.
LONDON, June 10.—Miss Phillips Fawcett, who carried off the highest honors at the June examination at Cambridge university, had 400 marks more than Mr. Bennett, the highest male contestant.

Russia Increasing Her Army.
LONDON, June 10.—The Russian government has ordered the immediate addition to military establishments of four corps of flying cavalry and a further augmentation of its field battery service.

Students Have a Narrow Escape.
BALTIMORE, Md., June 10.—While four students of the Johns Hopkins College were sailing in a small yacht in the bay off Fortress Monroe the boat sprung a leak. It was so bad that it was only by the utmost endeavor that the craft was kept afloat by bailing. The men were rescued after two days' exposure by a passing revenue cutter. Two of the students were unconscious from exhaustion.

Printers in Convention.
ATLANTA, Ga., June 10.—The annual session of the International Typographical Union began here Monday with 14 delegates present from the United States and Canada. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the Chase-Breckinridge copyright bill. Officers will be elected Thursday.

FIGHT WITH CIRCUS MEN.

A Crowd of Maine Men Attack a Circus and a Riot Ensues.

ELLSWORTH, Me., June 10.—There was a serious riot today between several hundred lumbermen and the employees of a circus that struck town yesterday. The fighting was of the most desperate nature and more than a score of men are under surgical treatment. The mayor sent to the surrounding towns for assistance, the local police being unable to stop the fighting. A big company of special police was organized and, with Winchester repeating rifles, beat down upon the mob. Nobody was killed outright, but many were seriously injured. It is feared that the trouble will be renewed tomorrow.

The Deadly Premature Blast.
ASHLAND, Wis., June 10.—John Paula, an Italian, was killed by the premature blast of black powder at the Curry mine at Hurley. Two blasts of dynamite had been made and he was in the act of lighting another when it exploded, instantly killing him.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street.
NEW YORK, June 9.—The stock market opened this morning with a moderate volume of business. The first prices were generally 1/2 to 1 per cent higher than Saturday evening's final prices. Slight further gains were secured in some cases, but considerable pressure was put upon the market, and the entire list moved off to the lower side. The market rallied and in many cases regained the earlier losses. At 11 o'clock the market was quiet, but firm, and slight changes from the opening prices. Dullness became the ruling feature after 11 o'clock and as usual it was accompanied by a dropping tendency in prices which reached the close. The concessions in values, however, were slight, and there was no pronounced movement in the market. The market was quiet and heavy and generally at small fractional declines from the opening prices. Money is easy at 4 1/2 per cent. Bar silver 61 1/2c.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS.

And the recapitulation of the sales made by the live real estate firm of Wheeler & Stevens the past six years must support the statement. They take property to sell under an office system, which admits and enables them to go to an expense in advertising and showing that leads to rapid and satisfactory sales. Experience has demonstrated that it cannot be carried on in any haphazard way, or built up by funny sayings. Petrons of this line of business become such with a view of being benefited. What better course than to go where such results are universal?

Without a dissolution Mr. L. F. Holway has become a member of the firm, so that the Janesville office is now run under the name of STEVENS & HOLLOWAY, with no changes that in any way cripples the special bargains that the office has become so famous for, and when you come to the matter of wanting to buy a thing don't forget that Mr. F. L. Stevens is still at the head, and that from Janesville to Maine is but a walk around a block for him, when a pointer has a ring indicative of a possible show. We keep closed at hand at all times free transportation in showing property at any distance and will guarantee to distress you with no tired nerves.

Remember, it's our time against your's only, and no expense until we have done you the good you seek.

Go Down South Main

To Clark street, and you are at first entrance to "Riverview" from Main. A few weeks later you can enter this charming addition through CARRINGTON STREET (a new street we are about to open just south of Mr. Parker's house) which will perhaps be the easiest entrance to "Riverview." Fourteen rods farther down Main street you will soon find Valley street all marked, and this, too, will be an easy and delightful drive to Riverview. You all know the next entrance is through Sharon and Dickson streets. This will make FOUR good streets from Main to Riverview Park. In these drives you will have the charm of hill and dale, of groves and of glens. It is a conceded fact that no portion of this city is so delightfully situated. Lots in the addition no longer seek buyers, but buyers seek the lots.

Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

A Symposium of Facts.

The Fidelity sisters' home South Main street, is desirable, is cheap and terms are easy.

The Allen home, South Main street, "is another."

The Hansbatt place, 251 South Jackson street, is the best "buyable" home in that ward, it is very desirable every way.

The Jno. G. Saxe place, 114 4th avenue, is "cheaper than dirt" and is just what half a dozen men in town want.

Mr. Hotelling is coming over into the 3d ward and that is why we offer his home, corner of School and Cherry streets low.

Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

A Villa Site.

Embracing within its limits wooded hills, shady glens, charming views, and easily accessible from all points is not readily found in any city. We have just such an one within 1/2 mile of P. O., and for beauty there is not another one in Janesville to equal it. We just mention it now; a little later we shall talk about it till you can't rest.

Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Lives there the Man with soul so dead, who never to himself has said, I wish I owned 5, 10, or 20 acres of good land not over 10 minutes drive from my work or business, provided I could own it at a low cost? Well, we guess not.

Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

"By the Great Horned Spoon."

Was a favorite oath of some of the ancient seers. Queer old chaps they. Some of them were called Chap 1, Chap 2, and so on.

If these old fellows were in the R. E. business and were as overworked as Dave's and we have been for the past two weeks, they were as near justified in swearing as man ever can be. Our mare who can do everything but talk, seemed every night of past week just on the point of making oath that she wouldn't work so hard another week, so Sunday p.m. we started off for Chicago, just for a rest.

Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

BOWER CITY BAND.

You know them. Well they are going to give a series of open air concerts in "Riverview Park." "They come high but we must have them" and no one has been asked to subscribe a cent except you.

Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Electric Lights, Fine Park.

Band concerts, water main, trees, flowers and art till you can't rest. All these go to make up our "101 reasons why" Riverview Park and Glen Elva "lay over" any other residence section of the world. Perhaps you may think we are modest in our claims for these additions, but we don't have to be. The conditions are not "built that way."

Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

When Joshua Commanded the Sun to Stand Still.

He had just heard of Forest Park, and was anxious to see it just before sunset. Have you ever been driving through Forest at this witching hour? We were up there the other evening, the lines lying loose over the dash, and we were holding each other's hands just as we used to 30 years ago, and Geo. thought we had struck paradise. Did you ever try it? Church societies are nowhere.

Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.
